Week of April 17, 2023

Sparking Minds, Enriching Souls, Inspiring Futures

Screen Time in Children and Adolescents

Our children are growing up in a world with computers, cellphones, and tablets; they entering into the digital and social media worlds at younger and younger ages. Studies are showing that there are direct links between screen time and a child's ability to learn, concentrate on their studies, engage in non-electronic activities, interact socially with their peers, obesity, depression and anxiety. How much time is your child connected?
