Next week, we will be starting our new unit on babies. We will be focusing on what babies need. One of the things we will be talking about during this unit is how babies change. We are asking that all students send in two 4x6 pictures, one of what they looked like as a baby and one of what they look like now. We will be using these pictures as a guessing game by matching up our present day picture with the correct baby picture. Please be aware that you will not be getting these pictures back. Thank you for your help! We can't wait to try out our luck at guessing all the cute babies!
