

Hello Parents and Students!

I hope that you have all been enjoying your summer thus far. This summer, in lieu of a written assignment, students will be reading two out of four assigned books and will be taking AR quizzes on them in September. They will also need to keep a reading log of everything they read this summer. Whether it's a novel, a science article, or The New York Times, students must log it!

The four summer reading books are:

1. Here's to You, Rachel Robinson by Judy Blume
2. Raymie Nightingale by Kate DiCamillo
3. Drums, Girls, and Dangerous Pie by Jordan Sonnenblick
4. Pax by Sarah Pennypacker

Students will complete graphic organizers as they read. They will be able to use these graphic organizers when they take their AR quizzes in September, so it is very important that they are detailed as they fill them out.

Enjoy the summer and see you in September!

Best,
Ms. Kurre
