This week we continued our theme on Our Five Senses by focusing on our hearing. We read Tap Tap Boom Boom by Elizabeth Bluemle and enjoyed acting out rain storm sounds from the story with our bodies and with instruments.

We also went on a listening walk around the school to identify sounds using our sense of hearing. We used new vocabulary such as loud, quiet, soft, silent and also learned about sign language.

We compared and matched sounds in the Science Center, created sounds with art, and explored the sounds of instruments in the Music Center. We also enjoyed our home-made instrument parade to complete our week!

Next week we will be focusing on our senses of smell and taste, both in school as well as through at home activities.
